WARFIELD HAS LIFE IN "MUSIC MASTER"

Enjoys the Role as Much as the People "Out in Front."

By FLORENCE YOUER.

David Warfield enjoys playing the role of Herr von Barwig in "The Music Master" just as much, every time he plays, as do the people "out

That explains why this year's performance of "The Music Master" is exactly as excellent as it was when Mr. Warfield appeared here in the role eight years ago. It also explains in part why the four weeks' run planned for New York this season trailed out into twenty weeks, with a tour planned for Eastern cities this year, and another for the middle Western cities next year.

"But there is no use trying to ac count entirely for the success of my play," Mr. Warfield said yesterday "It has something in it that people love. It appeals to them more strongly than anything elge I could do. I love playing it. They want me to play it, for they have asked me. So why shouldn't I? Why should I take a new play-do you see?"

The interviewer saw that, and more

But it was hard to say the rest in It isn't considered exactly conventional for a young woman to tell a man that he is lovable. After grave consideration in which a great effort was made to summon enough nerve to say it, the opportunity was lost, But not forever. Because it is said here.

Same On and Off Stage Stage personalities are not always nice to interview. They sometimes charm ineffably on the stage, but off stage, they creak.

But David Warfield is fundamental ly like Herr von Barwig, and Herr von Barwig made everybody love him in the play, and approximately 3,000.

of all he greets you as you might expect Herr von Barwig to greet you if you were Jennie, or Miss Houston, or his daughter. He makes you feel immediately that you are the most attractive, and clever, and fascinating creature in the whole universe.

He escorts you to a quiet nook, where, oblivious of every one else in the hotel lobby, he talks to you concerning anything and everything. Once in a great while, he says "But I wouldn't WANT, I wouldn't WANT you to print that," and then he smiles and looks at you just as Herr von Barwig might. As a result, the poor reporter sears the brain mentally, with a burning oath that the boss himself with a ladieful of hot lead ready to cast upon her if she refused, wouldn't, couldn't make her tell!

No, he doesn't naturally speak with a German accent.

Make-up Is Slight.

Make-up In Slight.

The only make-up Mr. Warfield uses (besides perhaps a touch of a pencil here and there) in "The Music Master," as far as the interviewer could tell, is that he lets his sideburns grow. A pair of thin horn-rimmed spec-tacles, with gold hooks over the ears, together with a light gray suit, a small blue bow tie, and a cigar, are the only disguises von Barwig as-sumes when playing the role of David

It was natural that we began to talk about the play itself. Mr. Warfield was particularly anxious to know how the cast had pleased, and was overjoyed to know that everyone thought very highly of the work of Helen Weer in the role of Jenny. "That's a remarkable child," he said.

up for discussion. We bemoaned the lack of original material, both on the stage and in pictures. We spoke of the depravity of modern art and one-act plays, and Mr. Warfield, spirited ex-ponent of the Belasco school that he is, oundly basted the one-act-amateur-pro "The trouble is that they cannot learn

GIRL BREAD BAKERS CONTEST IN SCHOOLS

David Warfield.

Practical Results of Cooking School Instruction to Be Tested.

Large bread eaters, facing an in rease in the price of the staff of life, may do well to apply to Miss Emma F. Jacobs, head of the department of domestic science of the public schools for a position as taster.

For soon there will be loaves an oaves of bread innundating the office of Miss Jacobs. It all started when the Housekeepers' Alliance, with the domestic science teachers of the schools, decided to have a breadmaking contest.

Several days before the Easter hol idays about 3,000 girls between the ages of twelve and fifteen began taking lessons in baking bread. The results are to be submitted to the ooking school teachers.

There it will be decided who the best four breadmakers are. Ribbons will be awarded to them. Then the winners will, after further instruc tions, submit a specimen of their handicraft to the office of Miss

WHY HAIR FALLS OUT

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. Interviewing Mr. Warfield isn't like anything class in the world. He does not measure up to a single one of the standards set by other artists. First druff, get a 25-cent bottle of Dander-

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm children and they love it.

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign the little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delictous "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages, and grownups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Advt.

DOES RHEUMATISM BOTHER YOU?

Many Doctors Use Musterole

So many sufferers have found relief in Musterole that you ought to buy a small jar and try it. Just spread it on with the fingers.

Rub it in. First you feel a gentle glow, then a delicious, cooling com-iort. Musterole routs the twinges, loosens up stiffened joints and muscles. Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It penetrates to the seat of pain and drives it away, but does not blister the tenderest skin.

It takes the place of the mussy, old fashioned mustard plaster.

Musterole is recommended for bronchitis, croup, asthma, pleurisy, lum-bago, neuralgia, sprains, bruises, stiff neck, headache and colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia),
